News of Interest to All

A complete mineral survey of Mariposa county is now being conducted by the State Mining bureau.

Only 140 women and 450 men out of a qualified group of 1300 applicants will be admitted to Stanford in the fall, according to notices sent out last week to the successful 590.

Customs collections in San Francisco last month totaled $1,120,254.49, compared with $1,052,994.49 in May, 1926. During the same month a decade ago the tariff duties collected amounted to $380,785.06.

Leighroy Miller, Porterville aviator and veteran of the World war, will attempt a flight from the Pacific coast to Tokio, Japan, if he can obtain $15,000 from his home city to finance preparations for the trip, he has announced.

Freshman hazing has been abolished by volunteer action of the students at the University of California at Los Angeles. There will be the annual class scrap, which will last half a day, but aside from that freshmen are to be unmolested.

The national forests form the home of a part of all the large game found in California and contain, according to a wild life census made by forest service officials, 225,000 deer, 10,000 bear, 1,000 mountain sheep, 400 antelope and 150 elk. In addition there are large numbers of predatory beasts, including 50,000 coyotes, 22,000 lynx and wildcats and 2,000 mountain lions.

Just twenty-four hours after he was forced the first time in his life to forego the annual Memorial day pilgrimage to the graves of his former comrades, Abram B. Covalt, civil war veteran and oldest G. A. R. commander in the United States, who recently celebrated his one hundredth birthday, died May 31 of heart failure at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. L. Hamilton of Oakland.

Mrs. John Hammond Crabbe, formerly Miss Mary Freeman of Woodland, member of the family which founded Woodland, has been awarded a $35,000 damage judgment in San Francisco courts against Ira O. Rhoades, purchasing agent of the Southern Pacific company, held responsible for an automobile accident in which she was seriously injured. Mrs. Crabbe lost the sight of one eye.

Farwell Brown, editor of the Oroville "Mercury," and his mother, Mrs. Murat Brown, were found dead in their home one morning last week from asphyxiation. It is thought that Mrs. Brown, an invalid, succumbed to the gas fumes while she was preparing dinner. Her son, returning, found her, and carried her to the porch. Reentering the kitchen to turn off the stove, he is believed to have been overcome by the gas himself.

Revealing plans for construction of a great reservoir in French Meadows at a cost of approximately $10,000,000, John L. McNab, San Francisco attorney, has petitioned the state division of water rights for a permit to divert 200 second feet of water from the middle fork of the American river in Placer county, and to store 80,000-acre feet in the proposed reservoir. The project contemplates development of 75,000 theoretical horsepower of electric energy.

The Sespe Development corporation announced that it will build a suspended monorail system to connect Fillmore and Sespe Hot Springs, a distance of twenty miles through Sespe canyon. The line will carry both freight and passengers, the cars to run at a speed of 100 miles an hour. With the twenty-mile run taking less than twenty minutes officers of the corporation said that Fillmore and other parts of Ventura county would be brought within an hour's ride of Los Angeles.

Four years will be devoted to the establishment of a wild flower sanctuary in Yosemite valley surrounding the new $1,000,000 Ahwahnee hotel, according to the plans of Carl Purdy, naturalist of Ukiah. "We will attempt to recreate the natural meadow effect in front of the Ahwahnee," explained Purdy. "Hundreds of flowers which are native will be planted there. One side of the meadow will be a rock garden, which will include specimens of the wild flowers found in the higher altitudes."

"The Romance of the Redwoods," colorful outdoor drama featuring the beauties of the primitive woodlands, will be presented under the direction of Garnet Holme as the first annual Humboldt Redwood pageant in the natural redwood forest near Eureka on June 11 and 12. The redwoods play, embodying a woodland motive whose underlying story is the preservation of the giant trees, was written by Holme and Dan Totheroh, both noted for production of pageantry.

BOY TRAINING IS CLUB LUNCHEON SUBJECT

Prof. E. A. Rogers of Montezuma Boys School was the speaker at Kiwanis luncheon Wednesday and gave some very good suggestions as to boy training. Boys are, as they have always been, of two classes, good and bad. Bad boys are usually the product of environment rather than inherently bad. They are naturally imitators and much of their evil acts are attempts at imitation.

Correction instead of punishment should be considered first and is more effective if self suggested and all boys respond to kindly treatement. System cannot be applied to boys as no two are alike.

Dean Whitman chairman of the hour made a hit with the losing crew by making the contest winners sing for the rest. Get your star on the spot.

Guy Farley will captain the shift next week and will introduce Frederick C. Davis who will speak on the manufacture of terra cotta and other clay products.

AFTENOON PARTY

A group of friends of three charming hostesses, Mrs. R. G. Archibald, Mrs. R. H. Hyde and Mrs. H. W. Shadle were entertained at the Community Hall, Friday afternoon.

Bridge was the diversion of the afternoon followed by a most artistically appointed tea. A color scheme of lavenders and yellows was perfectly carried out in all the details. The colorings in the room formed a perfect background for the bowls of lovely flowers, butterfly-bush, broom gorgeous thistles, lavender sweet peas and other blooms.

Score cards carried out the color harmony as did the dainty refreshments. Each table bore a flower container in lovely frillings of the two shades of crepe paper. Nut cups were dressed in the same pretty colors and each guests was presented with a very life like butterbly nodding on a long wire support. Ices and candies formed a part of a lovely effect.

A tally of scores showed Mrs. M. E. Kennedy, D. H. Cramer and Mrs. M. J. Bohnett as having the three highest.

There were a number of out-of-town guests who came from Saratoga, San Jose, Palo Alto and Gilroy.

Nurse Weiss Resigns

Mrs. Olga Weiss has resigned as district school nurse and will go to Fort Collins, Colo., where she will attend the Agriculture College for six weeks. Later she will be connected with the Red Cross in work along educational lines that will be a much broader work and take her into larger fields of usefulness.

Mrs. Weiss has been the very efficient and popular school nurse for Campbell's school district and her decision to leave will be a source of regret to faculty, students and parents alike. She has been tireless in her efforts at relieving sickness and distress, and most vigilant in detecting approaching illnesses and trying to prevent the spread of contagion.

The best of wishes will accompany her to her new fields of endeavor wherever they may take her.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Fay had a surprise on May 28, when Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Billings of Montello, Los Angeles Co. arrived to spend the holidays. Mrs. Billings is the eldest daughter of Mrs. Fay A family reunion was enjoyed on Sunday, when the following relatives were present: Mr. and Mrs. Billings, Mr. and Mrs. N. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. J. Stringer, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Wallcott and Mr. and Mrs. L. Weaver.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE URGES OBSERVANCE OF FLAG DAY. JUNE 14

"My fellow Americans:

"Flag Day on June 14 will mark the 150th anniversary of the adoption by Congress of the stars and stripes as the emblem of our nation. It is fitting that we should recall all that our flag means, what it represents to our citizens and to the nations of the earth.

"There should be no more approriate time to give thanks for the blessings that have descended upon our people in this century and a half, and to re-dedicate ourselves to the high principles for which our ensign stands. Liberty and union, freedom of thought and speech under the rule of reason and righteousness as expressed in our constitution and laws, the protection of life and property, the continuation of justice in our domestic and foreign relations—these are among the high ideals of which our flag is the visible symbol.

MUST CHERISH LOVE

"It will be futile merely to show outward resepect for our national emblem if we do not cherish in our hearts an unquestionable love of and devotion to the unseeen which it represents.

"To the end that we may direct our attention to these things, I suggest that Flag Day be observed in the display of the stars and stripes in public places and upon public and private buildings, and by patriotic exercises in our schools and community centers throughout the land."

Club Picnic Enjoyed

A perfect day, a wonderful picnic dinner and a goodly gathering of congenial friends united to make the annual club picnic of the Country Woman's Club held Monday at Congress Springs a splendid success. About thirty members and guests were in attendance. Following dinner and a trip to the springs, a short business meeting was held and suggestions for next year's work were made and discussed.

Mrs. H. C. Smith, with the assistance of the other ladies who attended, Mrs. L. J. Carboni, Mrs. J. J. Pardee and Mrs. Burrow, gave an informal report of the State Federation meeting held recently in Sacramento.

The club was adjourned to reassemble in September.

Good Chick Season

The baby chick season is practically over at the local hatcheries with this weeks shipments. The Ohlen plant has concluded its hatchings and the Mission and Denton Poultry yards are cleaning up on late orders.

All of the plants have had very good seasons and large shipments have gone to all parts of the State, but greater numbers to neighboring states, Arizona, Nevada, Utah, Idaho, Oregon, Washington and parts of Montana.

ALL KIWANIS NIGHT CELEBRATED AT CAMPBELL WITH BANQUET

All Kiwanis Night, Campbell's first, was an enjoyable affair held at the Community Hall Monday evening.

During the program Secretary Roy Archibald read telegrams from the special train bound for the International convention at Memphis, Tenn. He also read President Ammerman's address.

The occasion being also made the treat for the winning division in the attendance contest. Considerabl sport was held at the winners expense, they also being the losers.

President T. A. Cutting made the address on "The Meaning of All Kiwanis Night" which was greatly appreciated. The address follows:

"The task has been assigned to me of endeavoring to explain the meaning of this occasion—All Kiwanis Night. I have read all that I can find on the subject, have given the matter careful thought, and have reached the conclusion that All Kiwanis Night is the most momentous occasion of the Kiwanis year.

Harold Hippler in the Kiwanis Magazine for May defines the purpose of "All Kiwanis Night" as being four-fold:

1—To concentrate attention on the purposes and ideals of Kiwanis.

2—To strengthen Kiwanis fellowship.

3—To promote the Kiwanis spirit of co-operation.

4—To promote better understanding of Kiwanis ideals and objectives.

Perhaps we may best realize these purposes by imagining ourselves at such altitude that we may command a view of the whole North American Continent. Below us lies an army consisting of two divisions—one Canadian, the other of the United States. These divisions comprise 1625 companies of nearly 100,000 enlisted men.

It is a real army in actual battle formation. Headquarters, at the present moment, are at Memphis, Tennessee, and there is a meeting of the general staff presided over by General Ammerman. Most important decisions are being made at this meeting of the general staff. The campaign of the entire army for the year 1927-1928 is being planned.

We have just been listening to the message sent us from General Ammerman at headquarters, in which he impresses us with the reality and dignity of the battle in which the armies are engaged, and assuring us of our strength and the certainty of victory.

As we see the sixteen hundred clubs at attention and realize the possibilities of simultaneous action, we realize our strength better than ever before. Realizing our strength and thoroughness of our organization—it remains only clearly to visualize our foe, and then to strike in simultaneous offensive.

Every Kiwanis knows that we are to storm the entrenched fortifications of materialism under the banner of human and spiritual values, and that we are to drive selfish business, low professional standards, and degrading social practice from their entrenchments, that we are to rescue the under privileged and oppressed that selfish business and economic ignorance has enslaved, and that we are to establish higher idealism in the world by clearer precept and nobler example.

Such is the general nature of the enemy, deeply entrenched, and hard to dislodge. Imposing as the Kiwanis army may be it ie entirely inadequate to completly route the enemy in any one assault. Ignorance, economic injustice, selfishness, and social depravity hold many all but impregnible nests. It is a wide war and a world war in which we engage—a war the end of which our generation will not see.

Our generals at Memphis will survey the entire battle field, endeavor to ascertain the weak points in th eenemies' line and give definite direction to our offensive for 1927-1928. The Kiwanis army hitting in unison 100,000 strong will make a dent in the line—even as we have the past year.

I have just received the yearbook of Kiwanis accomplishments for the past year, and an impressive record it is. 36,000 blows were struck by Kiwanis units during the past year, and a better United States and Canada is the result.

Needy people have been aided by gifts of fuel, food, clothing, and medical care. Victims of explosions, flood and hurricane have been assisted; 37 clubs helped needy and deserving students in their efforts to secure an education; 125 Community Chests were boosted; boy scouts, campfire girls, and civic organizations were fostered; hundreds were assisted in their fight for health; and in a thousand other ways Kiwanis influence was felt.

As versatile as is our foe—so must be our attack. To serve is to be a Kiwanian. To serve in unison is to strike a mightier blow We should carefully study the objectives laid down for the new year and endeavor to swing our company into line for real achievement.

To me it is comforting to know that the Kiwanis battlalions are not the only ones in the field. Many other service clubs and worthy organizations are also in the battle line as our allies in the great cause of rearing an enduring and lofty civilization, and their presence and co-operation gives me confidence and courage. In the end I belive that justice and righteousness will prevail, and I belive that Kiwanis will play no mean part in the victory.

As the individual soldier must subordinate his personal comfort and safety for the attack, so as Kiwanians we must endeavor to put aside our selfish interests and stand ready to make some sacrifice for the banner of human and spiritual values under which we fight."

Baritone solos were much enjoyed as given by Leanord Willis accompanied by Clayton Willis at the piano. Later in the evening Clayton played two pleasing piano numbers. These young men are popular performers at Campbell's informal programs.

"Dean" Whitman was the last speaker on the program. He held the close attention of his hearers throughout his address, the subject of which was "Kiwanis and Fellowship."

"Dean" presented in a very comprehensive manner the two lines of effort that are being put forth by men everywhere—one seeking to improve and develop the individual; the other seeking the uplift and well-being of society.

The church and many kindred organizations devote their time to the first line of activity. Most of the moral advance in civilization today, the speaker thought, is due to the individual effort of men who have themselves been lifted to a high plane of living.

Organization and co-operation for the benefit of the masses have in the past very largely been the result of the getting together of people of kindred principles and professions.

Just how to bring a nation of hard-headed business men intc harmony and unison for the welfare of the country has been something of a problem. To bring men together for a common cause who have different religions, different politics and different ways of making a living has been a mighty task. It is for just this work that the service clubs of whatever name, have come into

Return Library Books

Bring in your library books, but leave your pocket books at home! Fines will be remitted on all overdue books returned to the Campbell Branch of the County Library between June 8 and June 15.

Now is the time to bring in your overdue books. There will be no fines in this week between June 8 and June 15. No attention will be paid to the date with which the book is stamped. But the books will be joyfully welcomed.

We are hoping to return many long lost children's books to our shelves. Others will be able to enjoy the books when they are once more in the library. Lillian Voge, Librarian.

Badger Picnic

Roy K. Wheeler, chairman of the publicity committee, announces a basket picnic an reunion of former residents of Wisconsin, to be held at Memorial Park, Los Gatos, Saturday, June 11, under the auspices of the Happy Badgers Society of San Jose, of which Dr. Channing A. Richardson is president.

Any former resident of Wisconsin will be welcome.

The freshman and sophomores of the Campbell Union High School are very grateful to the P.-T. A. for giving them such a thoroughly enjoyable picnic at Alum Rock Park the third of June.

T. C. Green and wife of Denver, Colo., who are spending their vacation on a pleasure trip to Hawaii, stopped off in California for a week's visit with Mr. Green's brothers, R. C. of Vallejo, W. P. of San Jose and E. P. of Campbell.

The fire department was called out Friday afternoon for a threatening blaze in the Orchard City Garage, but which fortunately had been controlled by the use of hand chemicals by tthe time the company arrived.

W. H. Clark and wife are in San Francisco this week for a vacation after a period of strenuous night work which Mr. Clark has put in during the busy hatching season at the Mission hatchery.

INSPECT WIRING ON CAR

Do not neglect the wiring on your car, advises the Free Emergency Road Service of the California State Automobile Association. There is always the possibility of a fuse blowing out at night on a mountain road, leaving you in total darkness.

THE HUMANITY OF THE GOLDEN RULE

The human element will always be present. The radio and phonograph bring music to millions of people, but there must be musicians to produce at the central place. What was common labor a few years ago is now the process made possible by the machine. But there must be human power and thought to make the machine. There is no substitute for brain-power.

But these illustrations are in the physical field. They hardly scratch the surface of the greater element of human aspiration. For no machine can make a home, though it can make a house. There is no button to press to get human sympathy. Love is not produced from cog wheels. Kindness does not emanate from a vacuum tank. Friendship is not held fast by brake linings. We often miss the main point in life by thinking that happiness is based on physical comfort, when in truth physical comfort comes from within; from the satisfaction, among other things, of having obeyed the Golden Rule. For surrounded by the luxuries of kings, or amid the beauties of mountain, desert or sea, among the crowd or on solitary plain, if one has not the feeling that he has done unto others as he would have others do unto him there can be no real happiness. It is not science or invention, but humanity that holds the world together. It is not the easy bed, but the easy conscience that makes a man happy. And it is our belief that people need to recognize this principle if they expect to give to the world what they owe it, and receive from the world what they believe they have coming.

GOOD NEIGHBORS

A woman in the tenement district of Paris has started a "Good Neighbors" club. She wants to restore old-fashioned neighborliness and friendship among people living door to door. She wants to be able to borrow a spoonful of coffee for the breakfast cup and a teaspoonful of sugar for supper and have both parties to the transaction feel right about it.

More power to her! All of us feel that the old-time neighbor is fast becoming extinct. As an institution he is losing ground. Communities are getting too much like hotels, especially those in the large cities. The people don't know and don't care to know who the fellow is that lives next door. We are thankful that this condition is not so pronounced in Los Gatos. But if this neighborhood spirit ever finally vanishes, there's no telling what's to become of us or of our nation.

"INTELLIGENT YOUTH"

In its report to the 139th general assembly of the Presbyterian Church meeting in San Francisco, the board of Christian education said: "With the rising tide of intelligent youth there is no doubt that the safety of Prohibition is assured."

We are glad that somebody has faith in the young generation. While the statement of the board will be taken with a grain of salt by many people, there is good sense in believing that the boys and girls of today—endowed as they are with all modern advantages, with the discoveries of science at their finger-tips, with health and longevity improved, and with an outlook on life never more prosperous—will grow up to be intelligent men and women who will carry on to greater things than we now know.

We hold no brief for the flapperish, sheikish carousals of the night-clubs. But we do believe this: That whatever mischief the youth gets into today some older person either made it possible or contributed to it in some way yesterday. In other words, one generation always rests on the foundations laid for it by the previous one.

We believe with the Presbyterian board that youth is intelligent. Why shouldn't we, since we are all more or less responsible for their welfare?

THE TEST OF THEORY.

Music has been credited with creating in the breast of man high ideals and strong ambitions. It has long been known or thought to have given courage in battle, charm to the serpent, and quiet to the savage breast. The test now comes of what radio music will do for people by their own firesides. Will it make the "15-minute a day" correspondence student's study courses easier of mastery? Will it keep husband and wife strong and steadfast in their determination never to "say a cross word?" Will it make the arithmetic lessons easier for the children?

We know it has brought entertainment, instruction and pleasure to thousands who were before deprived of good music or any other kind. Now the question is whether, by instilling strains of harmony into the ear they will reach the heart and soul. And whether because of radio music men and women will accomplish more in life's battles we do not know. But if it came to a point of whether or not we have radio, a favorable decision would be almost unanimous, especially to the initiated.

The object of the trip was the National Conference of Camp Fire Executives held at Cresco, Pennsylvania, and New York city. At the conference Mrs. Shelley was chosen as one of the speakers to give a talk on Camp Hand Craft and Nature Craft in Camp. At a banquet given in honor of the Camp Directors at the Park Lane Hotel in New York City, she was again chosen to give a talk, taking for her subject "Projects for Summer Camp". She has since received a request from an eastern magazine to write this talk for publication.

She also attended a school for camp directors held at Bear Mountain, under the auspices of Columbia University. Dr. E. K. Fretwell, leader of the course was assisted by several nationally known experts among whom were Dr. E. Lawrence Palmer, Dr. W. G. Vinal, Mr. Fay Welch. Here many new and modern ideas in camp construction and management were given. Mrs. Shelley expects to put many of these ideas into pratice at Camp Wastahi this summer.

At the close of the conference Mrs. Shelley visited the National Park Seminary, a large school for girls, at Forest Glen, Maryland. While there she obtained much valuable information useful in work with the adolescent girl.

From Maryland Mrs. Shelley went to Louisville, Kentucky, where she was entertained and shown the sights of the Southland by the Philip Shankle's, a pioneer family of that city and also relatives of Mr. Shelley.

The Camp Fire executive did not tarry in the flooded district she was scheduled to visit at the Teacher's College at Cape Girardeau, Mo., where she has a sister on the faculty. But owing to the flood conditions she did not venture South. She stopped in Goltry, Oklahoma, where she visited her father, P. C. Mahaffey, mayor of that city. Several luncheons and dinners were given in her honor while in Oklahoma.

Mrs. Shelley spent several enjoyable days with the Moffat family in Tuscon, Arizona. A trip was made to Saint Xavier Mission where she procured some Indian baskets, her hobby.

Mrs. Shelley is delighted to be home again, and all the Camp Fire Girls are glad to know she is again with them. Miss Emily Houston was in charge of the Camp Fire office during the absence of the executive.

NOVEL ENTERTAINMENT

A novel manner of giving its prophecy was that of each member broadcasting his particular line of work. Some very pointed hints were made in this part of the program, one most being the crowded condition of the school and the need of an ew one.

Anyone in doubt as to the necissity of more room should have been compelled to stand in the outer hall, as many did, to hear the program.

Following the program those present visited several rooms where a number of pretty and useful articles, the hand work of students, were on exhibit. These exhibits speak very highly of the efficiency of the instructors and the capability of the students of whom all are proud.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Preston left the first of the week for a vacation in Yosemite Park.

Rev. W. E. Eckles occupied the pulpit of the Congregational Church last Sunday giving an excellent report of the meeting of the National Council at Omaha from which he had returned the Friday before.

ALL KIWANIS NIGHT-

being. As the name implies, the objective of all these clubs is community service and the unifying power of the club is the get-together spirit.

They have never made the development of the individual their major objective. To get a more general and broader interest in the boosting of worth-while projects, Kiwanis, as well as other service clubs, has taken a cross section of the community in which it functions, only two representatives of each business and profession being admitted to membership, thereby presenting a broad and united front in whatever endeavor they engage.

The Kiwanis movement is not trying to make saints out of its members although it believes that a righteous or a moral man is of greater credit to his community.

SERVICE is the keynote of Kiwanis; to BOOST is its religion.

Mr. Whitman has his own idea of fellowship. He said it was a process of forgetting one's own individuality while getting acquainted with his neighbor.

Human nature in general is very much the same. We all believe in progress and we will work together if we can only forget our individual interests.

If there ever was a place where fellowship could be developed to the greatest degree it is at a Kiwanis luncheon where every man is fined ten cents whether he does a thing right or does it wrong; whether hetalks too much or too little. Men who find they can pull together in fun learn that they can also work together for the common good and so it is that fellowship develops builders.

A wire from Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ainsley annuonces their prospective arrival in Oakland Saturday evening. Their coming is eagerly awaited by relatives and friends, who will enjoy hearing of their many delightful experiences.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Morton left Tuesday for the East. At Detroit, Mich., they will purchase a car and make their tour through the Eastern states and Canada by auto. They plan to return in September before the opening of the school year.

A freaky rain storm, accompanied by a peal or two of thunder was experienced by this locality Tuesday. It is common to have more or less of a shower sometime during the chery harvest but this could qualify as a real rain and was not at all welcome to most people.

THE FAIRIES OF THE DAY

The woodland shone in the moonlight bright
While fairies, elves, and woodland sprites
Dancing round in a magic ring
Whispered the joy that is in spring.

The moon is sinking o'er the hill
And the fairies dancing on the rill
Grow drowsy, drop their dainty heads,
Fall sleeping on their flowery beds.

Now as lighter the woodland grew
Seem as the fairies of the day
The dainty flowers washed with dew
Who make the world as bright and gay.

No More Hazing at College of Pacific

The hazing of frshman at the College of the Pacific may be abolished or consirably restricted by the action of this year's freshman class. At a meeting of the class yesterday arguments favoring and opposing the present system of warfare existing between the sophomore and freshman classes were presented. No decision was reached, but a committee was appointed by President Kent Shuman (Woodland) to determine the attitude of the class.

There has been agitation on the campu for the past two years from both faculty members and students to curb the hazing of the frosh. Because of opposition to the proposal of abolishing the traditional annual tie-up and tug-of-war, it has been suggested that these two "fights" be continued under the supervision of upper classmen while all other forms of rivalry would be abolished.

To Roosevelt and a tree

There stands a wondrous redwood tree,
On the corner of the old school lot;
'Twas planted there by Roosevelt
When I was a tiny tot.

The tree is patterned from its planter,
It stands so tall and erect.
It grew as fast toward the sky
As he in our respect.

'Twas planted with a shining shovel,
That was decked in red, white, and blue;
And those colors may be seen on its needles
As the sun strikes the morning dew.

Let's hope it keeps on growing,
As Roosevelt grows in fame;
And since his life hath ebbed away
'Twill remind of us of that name.

A squad of eight Indian Runners, from which at least four will be chosen to carry the colors of the Oregon Cavemen in the Redwood highway Indian marathon starting from San Francisco for Grants Pass, Ore., June 14, has been undergoing intensive training for the contest under a special trainer. The squad comprises husky braves of the Karok tribe, picked from trapping and hunting country 80 to 160 miles in the interior. The training camp is down on the Klamath river, where the Indians are subjected to a strict daily regimen, starting with a 5 a. m. plunge in the river and a two-mile jaunt and rubdown before breakfast. The day is devoted to combined running and hiking over the mountain trails. The runners will be brought to San Francisco a few days in advance of the start of the race.

CASH IN ON NATURAL BEAUTIES OF SANTA CRUZ MTS., SAYS WING

"You haven't cashed in on your natural beauties here yet," Professor Charles B. Wing of Stanford University said recently at a meeting of the Lions Club at Hotel Santa Clara in San Jose "You must have vision to see the whole country and to see that your interests are the country's interests." The territory he included extends from Palo Alto to Gilroy, from Gilroy to Santa Cruz and from Santa Cruz to Big Basin.

BIG BASIN ROAD

At this meeting it was announced that work on the long delayed highway from Saratoga to connect with the state road into Big Basin, the state Redwood Park, will start this fall and will be open to travel next spring. Supervisor Al Hubbard of Santa Clara county made the welcome statement.

The agreement at the time was that if the state appropriated funds for the construction of a road from the summit into the park, the supervisors would appropriate funds for constructing a road from Saratoga to connect with the state road at the summit. The state proceeded with its end of the agreement but year after year slipped by as the Saratoga to the summit road did not materialize.

WORK STARTS SOON

But Supervisor Hubbard announced all preliminaries practically completed, and construction of the road within the next 12 months assured.

"Our surveys are virtually completed," he said. "There are a few details yet to be decided, but this fall we will proceed with construction. The present road is being traveled now, and construction work can go on with less inconvience in the winter than now. The completed road should be opened to travel by next spring."

EASY GRADE

Although following in a general way the route of the present road to the summit, the new road will be routed so as to permit of travel to the top by easy grade. Automobiles will be able to reach the summit without shifting from high gear when the road is completed. It will also be sufficiently wide to permit cars to pass without danger. The present road is frequently avoided by autoists desiring to reach the park because of its sharp curves and precipitous grades. This necessitates a roundabout route to the park via Los Gatos, the Santa Cruz highway and Boulder Creek.

The new road will also connect with the Skyline boulevard, soon to be extended along the ridge through Santa Clara county. In conformity with the request of of state road engineers, the new country road will probably pass under the Skyline boulevard, the separation of grade thus minimizing danger of accidents, and then swing down from above upon the Skyline boulevard. The Skyline boulevard will cross the county road near where the latter joins the state road into the park.

A mass meeting of Modoc county sheepmen will be held at Alturas on June 16, at which there will be a wool grading and sheep mating demonstration.

Many Imperial cantaloupe growers have agreed to an assessment of 20 cents an acre to supplement the cost of a rigid inspection during the shipping season. At the meeting at which this decision was reached 33,000 acres were represented and 25,000 acres were signed up.

Notwithstanding the doubling of the membership dues this year $5 to $10, the membership committee of the Orange county farm bureau shows a favorable report. Nine hundred farm members are now signed up and it is expected that there will be over a thousand before the end of 1927.

At last week's auction, conducted by the California Farm Bureau Marketing association at Hanford, four cars of hogs were sold for thirty-seven consignors realizing $7,737. The top price for fat hogs was $10.10 and for feeders $13.25. Four butcher cows and nine veal calves were also sold.

Inroads of Russian napweed (centaurea repens), a noxious weed, in many sections of Tulare county, has occasioned an extermination campaign by the horticultural office of that county. The seed from the weed was first introduced in this country through alfalfa seed, imported from Russia. A careful check since that time has been made on all imported seed by the local county office. The Russian weed has a large taproot that extends from eighteen to twenty inches down into the soil. It is very difficult to control and spreads rapidly from jointed roots. As a method of extermination, holes are punched down into ground around the weed, and carbon bisulphide is then put into the holes. This method has been very successful, and has resulted in the complete eradication of two patches of the weed, while officials are at the present time working to exterminate the other patches.

Vigorous contest against the proposed sale of the holdings and water rights of the San Joaquin and Kings River Canal and Irrigation company, Inc., to the San Joaquin river water storage district for $4,400,100, will be waged before the state railroad commission by more than 510 ranchers who receive water from the company, it was revealed when hearing on the petition for the sale was opened by Thomas H. Louttit, railroad commissioner. Setting forth that the values placed on the properties are "excessive, unreasonable and greatly disproportionate," the protest of the water users asserts that such a deal would be "extremely detrimental" to the lands now served by the Miller & Lux interests, and further alleges that the petition for the transfer of the properties sets forth no ground which would justify the approval of the railroad commission.

Celery planting is under way in the El Monte district. Seed is planted directly in the field in rows with small drills, one pound of seed per acre being used and the seed just covered with soil. So far as known, this is the one district in the United States where celery is grown extensively without transplanting.

Many Tulare county ranchers report their yield of barley hay running two tons to the acre this year, due to copious rainfall at times when it was most needed. Some who have grain fields on the more rocky and hilly portions report a yield averaging a ton, or a ton and a half per acre, and all are well pleased with the season's output.

After a careful check of shipments from the Santa Maria district, the office of the Santa Barbara horticultural commissioner estimates that the vegetable industry of Santa Maria valley has developed to a $6,000,000 a year business. Half of this sum, it is estimated, will go to the growers, who last year received $2,600,000 in return for the vegetables they produced.

Artesian wells are being watched by officials of the Orange county farm bureau this season following a strenuous campaign to conserve water and stop the waste thereof. Several owners of artesian wells in the coastal section of the county have been served notice through the district attorney's office to stop the wasteful flowing of their wells. Hydraulic engineers have shown that the release of artesian water pressure in the lower plains materially influences the lowering of wells in the upper part of the county.

Walnut, citrus and bean growers of the Garden Grove section are following with keen interest an experiment in the use of chemically treated sewage on the ranch of H. Clay Kellogg north of Garden Grove. The experiment with the sewage was revealed when the state board of health granted a permit for the transportation of five tons of the fertilizer to the ranch from Pasadena. The new fertilizer is said by those producing it to be particularly adapted to use on lands that have been bleached of alkali and is said to be a very cheap product to obtain.

Shipments of nearly 100 cars of Valencias more than the number shipped at the same time last year have been recorded by Mrs. E. B. McCoy, station agent for the Santa Fe at Olive. To date there have been more than 260 cars of Valencias shipped through the local station, her records indicate. Last year there had been 164 carloads sent east. Shipments average about ten cars per day, through the local station, according to Mrs. McCoy. This is a greater average than was noted last year at this time, there being only seven and eight cars a day being shipped in 1926.

Hill ranchers of Madera county are busily getting in their hay. A considerable acreage is put in every year in the hills between Raymond and Mariposa. Oats and barley are the favored crop, and this year will yield good returns. A little rye for winter pasture and, in a few places, wheat, are occasionally put in. This year the native grasses have been exceptionally good and in many places wild hay is being cut. The clovers and in the mountains the timothy make particularly good wild hay, the burr clover being the most popular.

More onions have been grown in the McFarland district this year than ever before, and quality is high, with a good yield to the acre. Carl Melcher recently shipped a carload of Crystal Wax and expects to ship seven or eight carloads of Spanish sweets. He had about nine acres planted. These onions were transplanted from beds to the field in December, and have had very little irrigation. They are unusually early. Onions were not bothered by the aphis, which damaged so many other local crops.

Declaring the puncture weed to be "a menace to the values of property in the state," and outlining heroic measures for its elimination in Hanford, Mrs. Effie Warnack, secretary of the Hanford board of trade, under the direction of a committee consisting of members of local clubs, has instituted an individual block system in a war of extermination.

The Strathmore farm center is campaigning against destructive birds in that community and is offering a bounty of 2 cents for grown linnets and sparrows, and 1 cent each for small birds or eggs. Cash will be paid those bringing in the birds or eggs by any member of the committee to which they are taken. Besides the bounty local boys are competing for three prizes, the nature of which will be announced later. A record is being kept by the committee of the number of birds and eggs delivered by each contestant.

The annual six weeks' short course in poultry husbandry will be given at the University farm, Davis, October 3 to November 11, according to announcement at the University of California. Every phase of the poultry industry will be covered in the work offered.

The cherry crop in the vicinity of Paradise, Butte county, matured late this season, causing shipments to start two weeks later than usual. The crop is light, resulting in unusually large and attractive fruit.

Building of a hotel and thirty cottages, nucleus of an exclusive "divorce colony," is proceeding at the south end of Lake Tahoe. The cottages are on the Nevada side of the boundary, with the inn squarely on the California-Nevada line. The project is designed to divert profits of the divorce business from Reno. Residents at the colony will be restricted to divorce seekers. Reno lawyers admit the three months' divorce law is not bringing the rush of business anticipated, and the Tahoe project has caused consternation in local business and legal circles.

There is quite an agitation to take the "we" out of editorial work. Well, they can take US out of it most any old time if they'll give WE something else to make money for US.

When your careful bakings are disheartening—

The Oven Heat Control will help you

There's many a good recipe which has been carefully followed and only turns out fairly well.

Those years of experience in estimating the oven's temperature are no longer necessary. For the Oven Heat Control on the new Gas Range measures the oven's temperature just as accurately as you measure and mix your costly ingredients. In measuring and mixing you eliminate guesswork. With the Oven Heat Control you eliminate it from baking, too.

Let us or one of the local range dealers explain more fully how to bake your cakes and other foods perfectly by means of the Oven Heat Control on the new Gas Range.
